

Casino Whoring

For any avid gambler with internet connection, online casinos are god-sent. This means that they can play their favourite game anytime anywhere. Casino whoring is a term used to lure these potential players to play in their online casino by offering bonuses. Despite the common perception about risks in gambling, certain casino bonuses are practically free of risk and can be cashed out in real money. So whenever one says he's going for casino whoring it usually means he's going to deposit certain amount of his own money called bankroll and tries to win the bonus offered by that particular online casino by playing say for example blackjack. Let's imagine a scenario. You sign up for an online casino and deposits $100 and immediately you are given another $100 as bonus money. So you now have $200 to gamble with. In order to get back your money plus the bonus, you have to meet a minimum requirement that is called the wager requirement (WR). Say for example this casino sets WR of 5 times your total gambling money. Meaning you have to clear $1000 before you can cash out. You proceed to play blackjack for instance and keep betting and winning until you wagered $1000. Then you can cash out. That's it! Keep in mind however that different online casinos establish different terms and conditions and they change them very often. So always read the terms and conditions carefully. Some let you cash out your initial deposit even though you have not met the WR, some won't. Some have different way of calculating or sets different house-player advantages and variances. Some pay immediately and some may require you to wait at least 7 days. So please make sure you understand the T&C and the rules completely before playing. Casino whoring almost always guarantees a win if you are disciplined and willing to play long hours. Online casino makes money from casino whoring when a player is not determined to stick around long enough to meet the WR and ended up losing their bankroll. So for every smart player who wins the bonus and move along, they get three suckers, netting them a hefty overall return. So be smart!
